If you need hard copies of your documents and would like to reduce the amount of paper used, it can be useful to know how to double-sided print. Fortunately, almost all devices support this feature nowadays. Double-sided printing (also known as duplex printing) can be achieved, allowing double-sided option before each print job or configuring your printer to print this way by default. In this article, we will take you through how easy it is to configure your printer for manual and automatic double-sided printing, using a wide range of applications. Note: To find out if your printer can print duplex, check with the manufacturer. How to print Double-Sided on Windows For a single double-sided printing: Access the document to print and then select File > Print. In the menu, click Printer Properties. In the pop-up window, select the Duplex Print drop-down menu. Depending on the application, printer and Windows operating system you are using, you can have options to manually print on both sides or print on both sides. If offered, select one of the following "print double-sided" options: Turn on long edge - pages will print to be opened as a booklet (left to right). Turn on the short edge - the pages will be printed to be turned like a notepad. Select OK, then Print. To configure double-sided printing as default: Select Start, then the Settings app. Select Devices and then printers and scanners, scanners,your printer. From the pop-up drop-down menu, select Manage or manage your device. From the left column, select Print Preferences. After the dialog box, choose the print shortcut option. Bilateral duplex dialog printing Print shortcuts, or turn on the short edge. Select Apply and then save. Then cutting edge binding. Select the print, or email you want to print and select SHA re. then click Print. Select A printer. Then settings, connections and more settings. Settings you will now see the option of 2 sides. Enable this feature from your Android device by activating the slider. Print on both sides and print. To print manually by means of the word: Open the document to print and select Print.In Settings File, select Print manually on both sides. Select a printer. Then select the document and then the document list with the printer selected. In viewing, selected Under the System tab, click Both. In the impressum options, click set print properties, configures or preferences. Set the print on both sides of the page. Then select Print. How to Print Double-SIDED at HP Officejet 3830 Printer Open the Impressive Document. Type Ctrl + P to lift the print box. In the suspended menu, select the printer. From the impression configuration, select the option of Long-EDGE connection and then print. Additional Frequent Questions How do you turn off the duplex print? The following instructions, based on the use of a Xerox printer, will give you a general idea of how to achieve this. For the specific steps for your printer, see your user guide. To deactivate the duplex impression by work on Windows, à € € Open the file you want to print, or properties. A € € In the 2-Sided Printing menu, ensure that the 1-sided print is selected.
